2023-2027 Infrastructure Capital Improvement Plan (ICIP)

Finance Director Anthony Bolling spoke to the Commission about the Infrastructure Capital Improvement Plan (ICIP). He would like to have more public meetings, get more input from the community and just have more voices overall in the room for ICIP. There is already a short term plan with a long term goal that the team has been working on. The team is trying to be strategic on the planning of the ICIP, so as to maximize the amount of funds we can acquire through all resources. The team came together and did a collaborative list of items and in what order they need to be in on the ICIP, there are 16 items on the list. Due to the time constraints of the workshop these are the items that were discussed.

- Ancient trail solar farms: This would be the second solar farm for the city. The reason behind a second one is to curb the megawatt power that the city buys from Western or Guzman so it would save the city money.
- Blanco Arroyo flood mitigation: there have been three studies in the last couple of years, Blanco Arroyo, Kokopelli subdivision and the Hampton arroyo. The arroyos and culverts need to be brought up to a 25-year flood standard.
- The next three projects are all Electric Department projects and are all inter related. They would be rebuilding different electric circuits throughout the city.
